In early December, Friends of the Animal Shelter was contacted by George Hines, the Chief Innovation and Technology Officer at Lithia Motors, Inc., telling us that his company would like to present us with a $10,000 check. What a wonderful holiday surprise!

This is one of the largest corporate gifts we have received to date. Needless to say, this very generous donation lifted the spirits of the staff and volunteers just before the holidays.

In mid-December, George visited the Shelter and met with Friends of the Animal Shelter Board Treasurer, Michael Murray, who provided George a tour of our facility and an introduction to everything Friends of the Animal Shelter volunteers do to help the animals.

While walking through the dog kennels, George noticed that many dogs were laying on beds in various states of disrepair. He learned that an order of new beds had been placed by the Shelter, but were backordered until late December. After asking what else the dogs needed to make them more comfortable, the following week George made a personal donation of 20 brand new beds, 80 high-quality and comfy blankets, tennis balls, and high-quality treats. He explained that his own dog loves the type of blanket he selected, so he thought the Shelter dogs would also enjoy the softness and warmth they provide. Becky Cohn, Board President, said "the new blankets are awesome."

Friends of the Animal Shelter supports the programs of the Jackson County Animal Shelter in Phoenix, Oregon.

We provide hundreds of volunteers to help increase pet adoptions and improve the quality of life for Shelter animals while waiting for their new forever homes.

Because preventing unplanned litters is the first step to reducing pet overpopulation, all Shelter animals are spayed/neutered before adoption.

And to ensure animals get a second chance, the Jackson County Animal Shelter and Friends of the Animal Shelter fund preventative and rehabilitative medical treatments.

All of this is in service to our vision that all adoptable animals in Jackson County find a loving home. And you can help!

Volunteer HIGHLIGHT

Bob Crowley

Volunteers are the heartbeat of Friends of the Animal Shelter. And, we'd like to introduce you to one of our "always there for you," volunteers, Bob Crowley.

After 33 years of service with AT&T, Bob and his wife, Jo Cooper, moved from California in 2014 to a home on five acres in Ashland. Lucky for us, both Jo and Bob decided to spend a lot of their valuable free time benefitting animals by volunteering for Friends of the Animal Shelter.

Jo began volunteering with the Street Dogs Project and Bob assisted her, when needed. However, Bob continued to look for more ways to help animals in need. In 2017, Bob started walking dogs at the Shelter and then became a weekly participant in the dog's "Playing for Life" playgroup program.

Over time, Bob eagerly became involved with a little bit of everything at the Shelter. He is trained to be a member of the Holding Crew, which works with the large dogs needing more attention to become adoptable. He was involved with the startup of the Working Cats program. In addition, he has helped plan, set up, and run fundraising events.

Bob helps out at the Shelter's monthly low-cost vaccine clinics and coordinates the maintenance of the exercise yards for the dogs. In 2018, he was elected to the Board of Directors, and when they needed someone to get the new spay/neuter trailer ready for surgeries, Bob raised his capable hand. He now sets up the trailer for each spay/neuter clinic and participates in everything, from surgical assistance to animal recovery.

When Bob isn't volunteering for Friends of the Animal Shelter, he can usually be found working on their property and kayaking with Jo. He enjoys wood-working projects and, of course, taking care of their animals. They have six dogs, all of whom were adopted from shelters, including two recently from the Jackson County Animal Shelter, Eddie and Darla.

In September 2020, Bob and Jo fostered a large dog, Eddie, who ended up at the Shelter's temporary set-up at the Expo Center during the evacuation prompted by the Alameda fire. A few months later, Eddie became a permanent member of their household. Prior to adopting Eddie, they fostered Darla, who had some medical issues that would make her challenging to put up for adoption. She, too, never left this loving home.

In addition, Bob and Jo also have 10 cats and 2 miniature donkeys. All the cats were rescued from the streets or abandoned by their owners.

We are so very fortunate to count Bob as one of our valued volunteers. Maybe you'll want to join him to walk dogs sometime soon?

We are delighted to announce that our Volunteer Orientation meetings are back!

Attend one of our monthly Orientations to hear about current volunteer opportunities. Space is limited, so please let us know you'd like to participate by calling (541) 774-6651, or email us at fotas@fotas.org. We'd love to meet you!

Partnerships make the difference

Together, we are saving more animals

Santa Paws Delivered Even More

George wasn't done playing Santa Paws. Just before Christmas, more high quality dog treats, jolly balls, bully sticks, Martingale collars, and leashes were delivered, followed by a significant personal donation from George and his wife, Wendy. A few days later, Ronald Sircar, Director of Technology Service Operations at Lithia Motors, made a big donation as well!

Brutus expresses his appreciation for George's donated bed, blanket and toys.

George moved to the Rogue Valley in 2018 from Scottsdale, Arizona, along with a rat terrier he rescued from a shelter there. He also loves cats and still donates to the shelter in Arizona. He's compassionate about animals and makes his own dog food. His work at Lithia Motors involves creating a system for car buyers to purchase a car online and have it delivered to their homes.

We are so very grateful to Lithia Motors and George Hines, who made a significant difference in the lives of Shelter animals for the holidays and beyond.

Celebrating 8 Years with Petsmart Charities

Volunteers Becky Cohn, Lorna Bolton, and Vincent Leandro showing dogs at Petsmart on a Saturday afternoon.

Since 2013, Friends of the Animal Shelter has been an Adoption Partner with Petsmart Charities. Monthly, our volunteers take adoptable Shelter dogs to Petsmart where they can meet potential adopters.

144 Shelter dogs have been adopted at Petsmart!

This relationship is truly win-win-win! We get more dogs adopted. Petsmart Charities donates funds to the Shelter for each adoption. The adopter gets a coupon book that includes discounts on Petsmart supplies, a free bag of dog food, and a free ½ hour private training lesson.

Paddington Station is truly a friend to Friends of the Animal Shelter

Visit Paddington Station at 125 E Main St, in Ashland, and you'll see that Friends of the Animal Shelter will receive $5 for every "Giving Collection" item purchased.

The Collection includes a large assortment of cozy sweaters, hats and heated scarves, plus some adorable gnomes and bears.

Thank you, Paddington Station, for supporting the animals!

US Cellular Delivers Goodies

US Cellular's Women in Action (WIA) is an associate resource group that looks for ways to create volunteer and outreach opportunities in the communities they serve in order to spread joy and keep people connected.

On Friday, December 17th, they did just that! Several WIA members delivered a huge load of donated items that will bring joy to the Shelter animals awaiting their fur-ever homes as a "thank you for being a voice and advocate for animals that need it most." They also delivered two boxes of huge yummy cookies for the staff and volunteers.

In addition, WIA members personally donated $900, with $400 matched by US Cellular.

Thank you, US Cellular and WIA for delivering so much holiday joy.

Shannon's Pretty Pawz Salon

Owner Shannon Kress, of Pretty Pawz Salons in Central Point and Gold Hill, took it upon herself to reach out to her clients for donations for our canine kids, then did some shopping to add to the wonderful gifts she collected. Yup, the holidays and beyond were definitely happier for our pups now that we have all these wonderful gifts!

Shannon Kress, with her elves (daughters), Madisyn and Aybree, gleefully delivered the donated goodies to Kim Casey, Shelter Program Manager and Becky Cohn, Friends of the Animal Shelter Board President.

FIND LOVE AT THE SHELTER

Long-timer dogs need your help

Unfortunately, adoptions of large dogs have slowed during the last few months, not just in Jackson County, but in shelters throughout the country. Yet, another side-effect of the pandemic. These friendly pups have been at the Shelter or in foster care for months, waiting to find their “forever” homes. If you have room in your heart and home for one of these deserving dogs, you can find out more information about them, and the rest of our adoptable dogs, at fotas.org/adopt.

Some of these pups are at the Shelter, so we invite you to drop in during our weekend Open House for dogs, Saturdays and Sundays, Noon to 4 PM. To make an appointment during the week, please call the Jackson County Animal Shelter at (541) 774-6654, option “0” to be transferred to a staff member. If you are interested in fostering, check out fotas.org/foster.

Bella

Sweet Bella entered the Shelter at the end of June and eventually found a home in August, living on 10 acres. Unfortunately, the property was not fenced and Bella chased the wildlife, so she was returned in August and has been waiting for her forever home with a fenced yard ever since. She is about 2 years old, weighs 55 pounds, and will do best with someone home most of the time.

This fun, adorable gal was brought to the Shelter in early June. She’s estimated to be 2 years old and weighs about 55 pounds. She was adopted in July, but her owners had to work long hours. So, she was left alone for long periods of time and barked a lot, which bothered the neighbors in the mobile home park. She was returned to the Shelter in October and is hoping to find a family that will be home most of the time to keep her company.

Masha

Rufus

Rufus is cute, 6 years old, affectionate, easy to have around, and weighs about 50 pounds. He found a happy home in Grants Pass in March 2020, but his owner had to move to Medford a year and a half later to a situation that didn’t work well for Rufus. So, he came back to the Shelter in October and has been in foster care since then waiting for a new home.

Leif has been waiting patiently for a home since mid-November, when he was brought to the Shelter as a stray. He's a sweet and energetic guy, who is 1-2 years old and weighs about 65 pounds. He gets along well with other dogs and is looking for love and lots of attention.

Be a Foster Save a Life

Providing foster care for a few days, weeks, or occasionally months, can be a lifesaving gift for an animal and a rewarding experience for you.

FAMILY REUNION

'We are both just over the moon'

Kerri Thomas, Cassius' owner gets kisses from her dog after being reunited at the Jackson County Animal Shelter.

The following article appeared in the November 24, 2021 edition of the Mail Tribune, which has given us permission to reprint parts of it here. It tells the story of a dog named Cassius who ended up being seized by law enforcement in January 2021 and the long journey it took to find his way back to his previous owner ten months later. Cassius spent seven months in the Animal Shelter until the District Attorney's Office granted permission to move him into foster care, which helped to relieve the stress of confinement at the Shelter.

Managed by Friends of the Animal Shelter, foster volunteers provide temporary, caring homes for shelter animals to recover from medical issues, distress, wait for spay/neuter surgeries, or to learn better skills before being adopted into a permanent home.

Tearful reunion spotlights legal entanglements of pets held as evidence at shelters.

By Buffy Pollock for the Mail Tribune

An emotional reunion at the Jackson County Animal Shelter recently involved copious amounts of happy tears, tail wags and bear hugs with a large brindle pup named Cassius.

Housed at the Phoenix shelter since January 2021, the big, lovable Catahoula/Mastiff mix had a long, lonely wait for his return to the life he knew before everything flipped upside down.

Faced with a domestic violence situation and unexpected life changes, Cassius's owner, Kerri Thomas, entrusted someone she believed to be a dog lover with her 3-year-old pup in 2020.

The man had vowed to care for Cassius until Thomas could figure things out and reclaim the dog. Regular visits and check-ins went well until the man stopped responding to calls and texts.

"I was in a really unhealthy situation and had dogs and kids involved. I was forced to choose between my kids and dogs ... so I had to re-home all of my dogs. I had three dogs. Two of them were given to permanent homes, but Cassius was supposed to just be a temporary situation. I always planned to take him back," she said. Her closest companion for over three years, Cassius once saved her and her family from a cougar attack, Thomas says, and was known for being a giant lap dog with a zest for life — and for wandering off to take a swim. Thomas said rebuilding her life was impossible with Cassius still missing from it.

Going through the paces of rebuilding her life, Thomas panicked when the man caring for Cassius virtually disappeared. When contact ceased — she later found out because the man had been arrested on a slew of charges — Thomas feared she would no longer see Cassius before finally leaving Southern Oregon.

Jackson County Animal Services program manager Kim Casey said it's a little known fact that the shelter deals with a number of animals seized as evidence each year. Because the dogs are not officially surrendered to the Shelter — and in some instances the owners cannot be contacted — the dogs cannot be fostered or adopted or even walked by volunteers.

Snaggle gets Snagged Because of his endless charm

When Thomas's unlikely dogsitter was arrested, Cassius and another dog were seized and had to wait for the case to be played out in court. After months of searching, Thomas figured out that Cassius was at the shelter and set about the process to eventually reclaim him.

Casey said it is hard to watch owners fight so hard to reclaim their dog, but be stuck in the legal system. "We had to keep him as evidence until the case was resolved. It was a very sensitive case, and knowing that the dog could have been a victim, we had to keep him until it was all resolved," Casey said.

Finally, wading through the red tape, and with her own life back together, Thomas said the tears flowed when she was reunited with her gentle giant. "It was just amazing to be back with my boy. The reunion was really amazing. I think it took him a second to realize who I was," Thomas said.

"Once he realized it was me and I'd come back for him, he didn't calm down for over an hour and a half. He hasn't let me out of his sight, and we are both just over the moon."

In 2021, 28 "evidence" dogs entered the Animal Shelter, which was a significant increase from previous years. Shelter Program Manager Kim Casey, said she believes "the recent rise in evidence holds is a result of an increase in the number of contacts that law enforcement officers are having related to animal cruelty and neglect concerns, which are often related to mental health issues, stress, and financial difficulties that the animals' owners are experiencing."

The result is an increased need for foster homes to accommodate these dogs for indefinite periods of time until their owners' cases are resolved.

For almost five months, a friendly and charismatic FIV (Feline immunodeficiency Virus) kitty, Snaggle, hung out at the Shelter, patiently waiting for his perfect new home. FIV cats live long and illustrious lives, inside only, and we knew Snaggle would make a fabulous companion for the right owner.

Although we promoted Mr. Snaggle-puss repeatedly, no one came forward to adopt him.

Friends of the Animal Shelter volunteers spent hours with Snaggle, giving him love and attention, and escorting him for walks on a leash and harness. He was very popular and made many friends during his extended stay.

And then, in early September, while on a walkabout around the Shelter, Snaggle found his new mom, a friend of a Friends of the Animal Shelter volunteer. This sweet woman was looking for a kitty to fill the emptiness in her home after recently losing her dog and cat. She looked at all the available adult cats and pondered the thought of adopting a kitten or two. Then, along came Snaggle, who worked his magic and charmed his way into her heart.

Snaggle was equally smitten, and gleefully agreed to go to his new home. Joyfully, the new adopter found out that one of our generous donors, Sid, had already paid Snaggle's adoption fee.

Snaggles is now named Bubba. His new mom says he is absolutely wonderful! He continues to go outside for walks with his mom on his leash and harness. This once streetwise cat is now enjoying a warm home and a human who loves him beyond words.

Let Your Love of Animals Be Your Legacy

You can't change an animal's past, but you can rewrite their future.

Every year, the Jackson County Animal Shelter takes in thousands of lost, stray, and unwanted animals. No matter their condition, the Shelter attempts to save the animals and find them loving, permanent homes. Friends of the Animal Shelter volunteers are essential in this effort and are dedicated to the well-being and adoption of animals at the Shelter.

Because of your belief in our commitment to helping these deserving animals, we would like to invite you to become a member of our growing Legacy Society. The Society is composed of generous and forward-thinking donors who support our long-term success through planned giving.

Leaving a legacy is easy. You name Friends of the Animal Shelter as a beneficiary in your will, trust, insurance policy, donor advised fund, or foundation. Your gift can either be anonymous or publicly acknowledged, with your permission. We encourage you to consult with your financial advisor to discuss the options, which may include donating real estate, stocks, marketable securities, or other assets.

Including Friends of the Animal Shelter as part of your personal legacy will help create solutions that celebrate animals who find themselves in our care.

Please contact our office at (541) 774-6651 if you are considering a legacy gift.

- Will or Trust. Sample language: "I give and bequeath to Friends of the Animal Shelter (Tax ID #94-3153463), a nonprofit corporation located at Phoenix, Oregon, for its (general or endowed) purposes, _____ (dollar amount, percentage of estate, or residual of estate), giving preference to supporting programs for the Jackson County Animal Shelter."
- Beneficiary of life insurance or retirement savings plans. Simply fill out and submit a beneficiary change form directly to your fund administrator.
- Personal or Community Foundation. Instruct your representative that you intend to leave Friends of the Animal Shelter a legacy gift. Community Foundations may have suggestions of how you can accomplish this using existing or new fund vehicles.

Why I joined the Legacy Society

I started as a FOTAS volunteer walking dogs in 2008, after adopting my second dog from the Jackson County Animal Shelter. I soon got more involved in other volunteer efforts, joined the Friends of the Animal Shelter Board of Directors, and began to better understand how the fundraising done by FOTAS directly helped the animals. So, in addition to donating my time, I started to respond to various fundraising requests from FOTAS. Later, as a Jackson County employee, I managed Jackson County Animal Services for almost 8 years, before retiring in 2020.

During that time, I experienced the challenges of running a shelter operation 7 days a week with limited staffing and financial resources provided by the County. Although the County's contribution has increased over the years, it still does not cover the entire cost of the operation. Thus, I was in a unique position to appreciate the critical role that FOTAS volunteers and its financial contributions play in saving as many animals as possible, while keeping them happy and healthy until they find a new home.

Although volunteers donate their time, I know that it takes money to hire staff to recruit, train, and manage them. I've also seen over the years how financial contributions made by FOTAS to the Shelter have enhanced the well being of the animals, which include the expanded exercise yards for the dogs, Kitty Korner, Puppy Place, and the recent on-site spay/neuter trailer.

My husband, Kevin, and I both worked in paid positions for many years and now have the luxury of donating our time to organizations that are meaningful to us. As past and present board members of several local nonprofits, we know the challenges of raising an annual budget every year.

Therefore, FOTAS is one of the beneficiaries we have named in our wills. Joining the FOTAS Legacy Society gave us peace of mind knowing that some of our resources in the future will help FOTAS continue supporting the Animal Shelter and saving the lives of abandoned animals after we are gone.

How WORKING CATS Help You

Have rodents? We have cats who need new homes that have been rescued from burned areas and construction zones where it is no longer safe to return. They can help keep those pesky vermin at bay! In fact, even the scent of a cat is enough to discourage rodents from inhabiting an area!

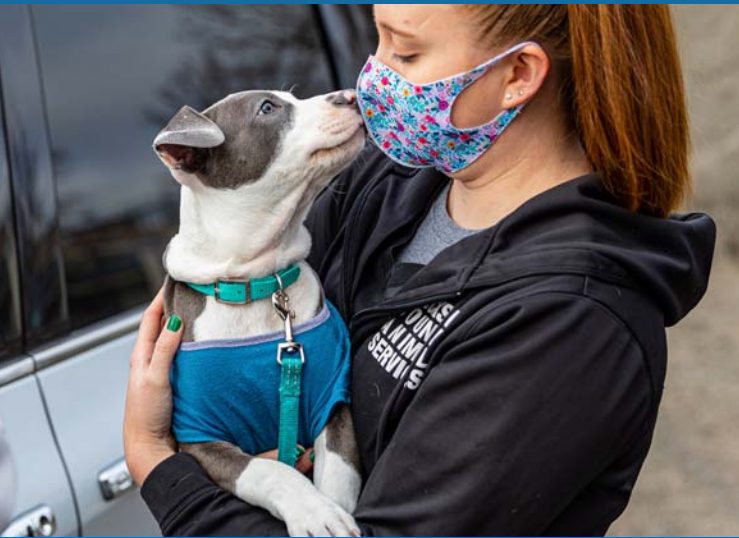

Our Working Cats Program provides up to 4 (but not less than 2) cats, depending on your situation. We set them up in large crates, which remain in place for 4 weeks while the cats get used to you and their new surroundings. And, we provide supplies and tips on how to successfully transition them to your property to do their job.

Working Cats love a good barn, but they can also take shelter in an outfitted storage shed, shop, garage, or any place that is safe, warm and quiet. We work with you to find the best spots on your property.

Please note, we are not accepting any new cats for relocation at this time. We are just seeking new homes.
